A Walmart bank would be devastating to the local community banks. Much like what happens to the smaller businesses that are forced out because of Walmart's "low" prices, the community banks (with whom we have personal connections) would also be forced to close their doors.

I ask you to take a look at some of the practices Walmart currently engages in. It is not only dangerous from a local economic point of view, Walmart has a history of unsound environmental practices, poor employee assistance, etc.

Thank you.
